Fresh, Honest, Local

Mary Clark Bartlett is the founder of Epicurean Group, a food-service management company dedicated to sustainable dining. Long before the term “sustainable” became trendy, Bartlett, an industry thought leader, identified the need for seasonal, locally sourced food.

“My passion is healthy food and a healthy environment,” says Bartlett. That’s why I started Epicurean Group 10 years ago. We’ve been able to turn our principles into practices: environmental responsibility is integrated throughout our corporate and campus restaurants and cafés. We purchase from nearby communities and encourage the growth of organic farms and ranches, sustainable fisheries and artisan producers. Our clients benefit from fresh, healthy ingredients – and they assure us that our food tastes better! I’m proud of my team, who truly lives our mantra: Epicurean Group is ... fresh, honest, local.
