Epicurean Group at a Glance

Epicurean Group is a food service management company headquartered in Northern California that staffs and operates restaurants and cafés for:

- Corporations and businesses
- Universities and private schools
- Museums, conference and performing arts centers
- US Department of Energy facilities

What Sets Epicurean Group Apart?

Epicurean Group follows environmentally and socially responsible management practices. Everything is made from scratch, not from cans delivered from a warehouse. Epicurean Group's artisan approach supports local, organic farms and ranches and the sustainable seafood model of the Monterey Bay Aquarium.

Through their companywide solid-waste reduction and Garden-to-Table initiatives, Epicurean Group is educating clients, students and families about how food choices affect health, environment and the community.

Epicurean Group is one of the first food service companies to be certified as a Bay Area Green Business, recognized for community environmental responsibility, resource conservation and pollution prevention.

CEO Mary Clark Bartlett established the GreenTown Co-op to supply compostable take-out containers to Bay Area restaurants at a discount, in response to a larger state plan to achieve zero waste by 2025. Epicurean Group is a participating business member of Slow Food – a global organization that advocates for local, sustainable food and fair trade practices – and we support its educational efforts.
